

1.—(1) The power of making regulations under the Public Health Act, 1896, and the enactments mentioned in that Act, shall include the power of making regulations authorising measures to be taken for the prevention of danger arising to public health from the importation, preparation, storage, and distribution of articles of food or drink (other than drugs or water) intended for sale for human consumption, and, without prejudice to the generality of the powers so conferred, the regulations may—

Power to make regulations as to the importation, preparation, storage, and distribution of articles of food. 59 & 60 Vict. c. 19.

- (a) provide for the examination and taking of samples of any such articles ;
- (b) apply, as respects any matters to be dealt with by the regulations, any provision in any Act of Parliament dealing with the like matters, with the necessary modifications and adaptations ;
- (c) provide for the recovery of any charges authorised to be made by the regulations for the purposes of the regulations or any services performed thereunder.

(2) For the purposes of regulations made under this Act, articles commonly used for the food or drink of man shall be deemed to be intended for sale for human consumption unless the contrary is proved.

(3) In the application of this Act to Scotland, Part IV. of the Public Health (Scotland) Act, 1897, shall be substituted for the Public Health Act, 1896.

60 & 61 Vict. c. 38.

2. All regulations made under this Act shall be laid as soon as may be before Parliament, and the Rules Publication Act, 1893, shall apply to such regulations as if they were statutory rules within the meaning of section one of that Act, and that Act as so applied shall, notwithstanding anything in subsection five of section one thereof, extend to Scotland, with the substitution of a reference to the Edinburgh Gazette for the reference to the London Gazette.

CHAPTER 34.

An Act to continue various Expiring Laws.

[28th August 1907.]

WHEREAS the Acts mentioned in the Schedule to this Act are, in so far as they are in force and are temporary in their duration, limited to expire on the thirty-first day of December nineteen hundred and seven:

And whereas it is expedient to provide for the continuance as in this Act mentioned of those Acts, and of the enactments amending or affecting the same:

6 Edw. 7, c. 9.
57 & 58 Vict.
c. 12.

And whereas by the Indian Railways Act Amendment Act, 1906, section nine of the Indian Railways Act, 1894 (by which the duration of that Act was limited) was repealed, and it is expedient that the reference to that Act in the Schedule to the Expiring Laws Continuance Act, 1906, should be repealed:

6 Edw. 7, c. 51.

Be it therefore enacted by the King's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

Continuance of Acts in Schedule.

1.—(1) The Acts mentioned in the Schedule to this Act shall, to the extent specified in column three of that Schedule, be continued until the thirty-first day of December nineteen hundred and eight, and shall then expire, unless further continued.

(2) Any unrepealed enactments amending or affecting the enactments continued by this Act shall, in so far as they are temporary in their duration, be continued in like manner, whether they are mentioned in the Schedule to this Act or not.

(3) So much of the Expiring Laws Continuance Act, 1906, as refers to the Indian Railways Act, 1894, shall be repealed, and the Indian Railways Act Amendment Act, 1906, shall have effect as if the Expiring Laws Continuance Act, 1906, had never contained any reference to the Indian Railways Act, 1894.

Short title.

2. This Act may be cited as the Expiring Laws Continuance Act, 1907.
