(4) The period specified in any directions given as aforesaid with respect to any articles or works shall be a period within which, in the opinion of the Minister, it is possible for the articles to be delivered or the works to be carried out having regard to all the circumstances of the case, and any such directions may provide that the obligation to comply therewith within that period shall be conditional on the happening or continuance of circumstances so specified.

(5) Where the Minister is satisfied that any person to whom directions have been given under this section to deliver any articles or carry out any works within a period specified in the directions has failed without reasonable excuse to comply with the directions, the Minister may authorise any person to carry on, until the Minister otherwise directs and subject to and in accordance with the provisions hereafter contained in this Act, the whole or any part of the business of the person to whom the directions were given.

8.—(1) Where the Minister is satisfied that any person—

(4) Where the Minister is satisfied that a person to whom directions have been given under this section has failed without reasonable excuse to comply with the directions, the Minister may authorise any person to carry on, until the Minister otherwise directs and subject to and in accordance with the provisions hereafter contained in this Act, the whole or any part of the business of the person to whom the directions were given.

(5) Where directions are given to any person under this section for the storage of any articles, the remuneration for the storage shall be such as may be agreed between that person and the Minister or, in default of agreement, such as may be determined to be fair and reasonable, having regard to all relevant considerations, by an arbitrator or arbitrators appointed as hereafter provided.

Power to require production of documents and keeping of records.

(2) If the Minister is satisfied that the records kept by any such person as aforesaid are insufficient to enable a fair and reasonable price for the article in question to be determined, or a fair and reasonable remuneration for the storage of the article or carrying out of the works in question to be determined, he may direct that person to keep such records as may be specified in the directions.

(3) If any person fails to comply with any directions given by the Minister under this section—

- (a) he shall be guilty of an offence under this Act and shall be liable on summary conviction thereof to a fine not exceeding one hundred pounds and, if the failure in respect of which he was so convicted continues after the conviction, he shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding fifty pounds for each day on which the failure continues; and
- (b) the Minister may, without prejudice to the provisions of the last foregoing paragraph, authorise any person to carry on, until the Minister otherwise directs and subject to and in accordance with the provisions hereafter contained in this Act, the whole or any part of the business of the person so failing.

11.—(1) Where by virtue of the foregoing provisions of this Part of this Act any person (hereafter in this section referred to as a “controller”) is authorised by the Minister to carry on the whole or any part of the

(2) Where the person carrying on an undertaking proves to the satisfaction of the Minister that directions given under this section in respect of that undertaking have been complied with within the period specified therein, or such further period as the Minister may allow, there shall be paid to that person by the Minister a grant equal to the appropriate proportion of the expenditure of a capital nature which appears to the Minister to have been reasonably incurred in complying with the directions.
