

CHAPTER 101.

An Act to provide for placing certain Officers and Men of His Majesty's naval forces under Military Law whilst serving on Shore. A.D. 1916.
[27th January 1916.]

BE it enacted by the King's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same as follows:

1. The Admiralty may, by order, direct that all or any of the officers and men borne on the books of any of His Majesty's ships shall, whilst serving on shore, be subject to military law under the Army Act, and, while such an order is in force, the officers and men to whom the order relates shall, for disciplinary purposes, be subject to military law under the Army Act in like manner as officers and men of the Royal Marines when so subject.

Application of Army Act to naval forces serving on shore in certain cases.

2.—(1) This Act may be cited as the Naval Forces (Service on Shore) Act, 1916.

Short title and duration.

(2) This Act shall have effect only during the continuance of the present war and a period of six months thereafter.
