

CHAPTER 22.

An Act to make temporary provision rendering unnecessary the re-election of Members of the House of Commons on acceptance of certain Offices. A.D. 1916.
[19th July 1916.]

BE it enacted by the King's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows :

1.--(1) The office of Minister of Munitions shall be deemed to be an office included in Schedule H. of the Representation of the People Act, 1867, and Schedule H. of the Representation of the People (Scotland) Act, 1868, and in Schedule E. of the Representation of the People (Ireland) Act, 1868. The necessity of re-election of certain Ministers suspended. 30 & 31 Vict. c. 102.

(2) Where by virtue of the Re-election of Ministers Act, 1915, a member of the House of Commons did not vacate his seat by reason of his acceptance of any of the offices mentioned in the said schedules as amended by any subsequent enactment including this Act, he shall, for the purposes of section fifty-two of the Representation of the People Act, 1867, section fifty-one of the Representation of the People (Scotland) Act, 1868, and section eleven of the Representation of the People (Ireland) Act, 1868, be treated as if he had been returned as a member to serve in Parliament since the acceptance by him of such office. 31 & 32 Vict. c. 48.
31 & 32 Vict. c. 49.
5 & 6 Geo. 5. c. 50.

(3) The provisions of this Act shall have effect as if they had been included in the Re-election of Ministers Act, 1915.

2. This Act may be cited as the Re-election of Ministers Act, 1916. Short title.
