

CHAPTER 9.

An Act to validate certain King's Regulations made under the Pacific Order in Council, 1893. [19th April 1916.] A.D. 1916.

WHEREAS His Britannic Majesty's High Commissioner for the Western Pacific (in this Act referred to as the High Commissioner) is given power under Article 108 of the Pacific Order in Council, 1893, to make, alter and revoke King's Regulations for certain purposes in relation to places to which that Order applies or within the limits of that Order, and doubts have arisen whether, having regard to the provisions of section three of the British Settlements Act, 1887, power could properly be given by that Order to the High Commissioner to make King's Regulations for places which were British Settlements within the meaning of that Act, and it is expedient to validate, as respects any such British Settlements, any such King's Regulations made before the passing of this Act :

Be it therefore enacted by the King's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows :

1. The power given to the High Commissioner to make, alter and revoke King's Regulations under Article 108 of the Pacific Order in Council, 1893, shall, so far as respects regulations made before the passing of this Act, be deemed to have included a power to make, alter and revoke King's Regulations for British Settlements, notwithstanding anything in the British Settlements Act, 1887 ; and any King's Regulations made under that power before the passing of this Act shall have effect in British Settlements accordingly.

Validation of certain King's Regulations under the Pacific Order, 1893, as respects British Settlements.
50 & 51 Vict. c. 54.
