Act, 1918.

A.D. 1918.

And whereas by section 5 of the principal Act power is conferred on the Treasury in case the amounts so specified as aforesaid in relation to any financial period are in any case found to be insufficient to authorise the Council to expend on capital account during that period such further sums as may be proved to the satisfaction of the Treasury to be necessary not exceeding in the aggregate in the financial year and the following six months respectively comprised in the said period such amounts as may be specified for the purpose in the Annual Money Act relating to that period :

And whereas estimates have been prepared by the various committees of the Council of the amounts which may be required for the purposes of expenditure on capital account and of loans during the financial period 1918-1919 in the execution of the powers and duties respectively delegated to those committees and all those estimates have been considered by the finance committee of the Council and submitted by that committee to the Council and the estimates as so submitted have been adopted by the Council :

And whereas the sums estimated to be so required as aforesaid for expenditure on capital account during the financial period 1918-1919 are set out in Part I. of the schedule to this Act :

And whereas the sums estimated to be so required as aforesaid for the purpose of loans by the Council during the financial period 1918-1919 are set out in Part III. of the said schedule :

And whereas the sums specified in the said Part I. of the schedule to this Act are to the extent set out in Part IV. of the said schedule sums which the Council were by enactments in force at the date of the passing of this Act authorised to raise but have not raised under the powers of those enactments : A.D. 1918.

And whereas the objects of this Act cannot be attained without the authority of Parliament:
