

Billiards (Abolition of Restrictions) Act 1987

1987 CHAPTER 19

An Act to abolish, as regards England and Wales, the restrictions by way of licensing or otherwise on the public playing of billiards, bagatelle and other games of the like kind, and a related power of entry. [15th May 1987]

BE IT ENACTED by the Queen's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:—

1. The enactments mentioned in the Schedule to this Act (which, so far as repealed by this Act, impose restrictions by way of licensing or otherwise on the public playing of billiards, bagatelle and other games of the like kind, and confer on constables power to enter places where public tables or boards are kept for playing at such games) are hereby repealed to the extent specified in the third column of that Schedule.

Repeal of enactments relating to billiard licences etc.

2.—(1) This Act may be cited as the Billiards (Abolition of Restrictions) Act 1987.

Short title and extent.

(2) This Act extends to England and Wales only.
