

Post Office (Data Processing Service) Act 1967

1967 CHAPTER 62

An Act to authorise the payment out of the Post Office Fund of the expenses of the Postmaster General in providing services and facilities for the processing of data by computer, and to impose an obligation of secrecy in connection with the provision by him of such services and facilities. [27th July 1967]

BE IT ENACTED by the Queen's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:—

1. In section 1(3)(b) of the Post Office Act 1961 (which provides Expenses of for the payment out of the Post Office Fund of the expenses of data the Postmaster General in respect of his functions relating to the processing matters there specified) the word "and" at the end of sub-paragraph (iii) shall be omitted and after sub-paragraph (iv) there shall be added the words "and" 1961 c. 15.

(v) the provision of services and facilities for the processing of data by computer."

2. Information obtained by any officer of the Post Office Obligation (within the meaning of the Post Office Act 1953) in the course of the provision by the Postmaster General for any person of such services or facilities as are mentioned in section 1 of this Act shall not, without the consent of that person, be disclosed by that officer except for the purpose of performing his duties in relation to those services or facilities or in such cases as may be required by law. 1953 c. 36.

3.—(1) This Act may be cited as the Post Office (Data Processing Service) Act 1967. Short title, saving and extent.

1920 c. 67.

(2) Nothing in this Act shall be taken to affect the meaning of the expression “the postal service” in section 9(2)(a) of the Government of Ireland Act 1920 (reserved matters).

(3) This Act shall extend to the Isle of Man and the Channel Islands.