

CHAPTER 54.

An Act to amend the Export Guarantees Act, 1939, and the Export Guarantees Act, 1945, by increasing the limits on the liability which may be undertaken by guarantees given under section one of the first-mentioned Act or section two of the second-mentioned Act.
[30th July 1948.]

BE it enacted by the King's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows :—

1.—(1) The aggregate amount of the liability at any time of the Board of Trade in respect of guarantees under the principal Acts shall not, in the case of the following guarantees, exceed the following amounts, that is to say :—

- (a) in respect of all guarantees under section one of the 1939 Act and section two of the 1945 Act, three hundred million pounds ;
- (b) in respect of guarantees under subsection (4) of section one of the 1939 Act (which enables guarantees to be given in connection with matters other than the export, or agreements for the export, of goods from the United Kingdom), fifteen million pounds ;
- (c) in respect of guarantees under section two of the 1945 Act (which enables guarantees to be given for the purpose of encouraging the participation of the United Kingdom in external trade transactions), thirty million pounds.

(2) So much of the principal Acts as imposes limits of two hundred million pounds, five million pounds and fifteen million pounds respectively on the amount of the liability in respect of the guarantees mentioned in paragraphs (a), (b) and (c) of the foregoing subsection shall cease to have effect.

(3) Accordingly the provisions of the principal Acts specified in the first column of the Schedule to this Act are hereby repealed to the extent specified in the second column thereof.
