

CHAPTER cii.

An Act to confirm a Provisional Order under the Private Legislation Procedure (Scotland) Act 1899 relating to Greenock Port and Harbours. A.D. 1922.
[4th August 1922.]

WHEREAS His Majesty's Secretary for Scotland has after inquiry held before Commissioners made the Provisional Order set forth in the schedule hereunto annexed under the provisions of the Private Legislation Procedure (Scotland) Act 1899 and it is requisite that the said Order should be confirmed by Parliament: 62 & 63 Vict. c. 47.

Be it therefore enacted by the King's most Excellent Majesty by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal and Commons in this present Parliament assembled and by the authority of the same as follows:—

1. The Provisional Order contained in the schedule hereunto annexed shall be and the same is hereby confirmed. Confirmation of Order in schedule.

2. This Act may be cited as the Greenock Port and Harbours Order Confirmation Act 1922. Short title.

A.D. 1922.

SCHEDULE.

GREENOCK PORT AND HARBOURS.

Provisional Order to repeal the existing rates and charges authorised to be levied at the port and harbours of Greenock and to authorise the Trustees of the said port and harbours to levy new and additional rates and charges in lieu thereof and for other purposes.

WHEREAS by the Greenock Port and Harbours Consolidation Act 1913 (hereinafter referred to as "the Act of 1913") the Acts relating to the port and harbours of Greenock were consolidated with amendments and the said port and harbours were vested in the Trustees of the port and harbours of Greenock (hereinafter called "the Trustees"):

And whereas by the Act of 1913 the Trustees were authorised to manage and administer the said port and harbours and to levy charge and recover the rates and charges specified in and authorised by that Act:

And whereas by the Defence of the Realm (Consolidation) Regulations 1914 and by the Greenock Port and Harbours Order 1919 (hereinafter called "the Order of 1919") a temporary increase of the said rates and charges was provided for:

And whereas on the said temporary increase ceasing to apply the rates and charges authorised by the Act of 1913 will again become operative:

And whereas the rates and charges authorised by the Act of 1913 are for the most part the rates and charges authorised in the year 1866 and are now inadequate:

And whereas it is expedient that the rates and charges authorised by the Act of 1913 should be revised and that new and additional rates and charges should be authorised as by this Order provided:

And whereas it is expedient that the Order of 1919 should be repealed as hereinafter in this Order provided:

[12 & 13 GEO. 5.] Greenock Port and Harbours Order Confirmation Act, 1922. [Ch. cii.]

And whereas it is expedient that the Trustees should be authorised to let on lease the graving docks and other subjects forming part or parts of their undertaking as hereinafter in this Order provided : A.D. 1922.

And whereas it is expedient that the other provisions in this Order contained should be enacted :

And whereas the purposes aforesaid cannot be effected without an Order of the Secretary for Scotland confirmed by Parliament under the provisions of the Private Legislation Procedure (Scotland) Act 1899 :

Now therefore in pursuance of the powers contained in the last-mentioned Act the Secretary for Scotland orders as follows :—

1. This Order may be cited as the Greenock Port and Harbours Order 1922. Short title.

2. This Order shall commence and have effect from and after the date of the passing of the Act confirming the same which date is in this Order referred to as “the commencement of this Order.” Commencement of Order.

3. In this Order the several words and expressions herein contained to which meanings are assigned in the Greenock Port and Harbours Consolidation Act 1913 shall have the same respective meanings unless there be something in the subject or context inconsistent with or repugnant to such construction and the expression “the Act of 1913” shall mean the Greenock Port and Harbours Consolidation Act 1913. Interpretation.

4. The following Acts and parts of Acts (so far as the same are not inconsistent with or varied by this Order) are incorporated with and form part of this Order (that is to say):— Incorporation of general Acts.

The Commissioners Clauses Act 1847 with the exceptions and variations specified in the Act of 1913 ;

The Harbours Docks and Piers Clauses Act 1847 with the exceptions and subject to the provisions referred to in the Act of 1913 and in construing the said Act of 1847 as incorporated with this Order the following expressions shall have the following respective meanings (that is to say):—

The expressions “packet boat” and “Post Office packet” mean respectively a vessel of rates.

6. From and after the fifteenth day of August nineteen hundred and twenty-four the Schedules E F G and H annexed to the Act of 1913 shall be and are hereby repealed and the Schedules E F G and H annexed to this Order are hereby substituted in lieu and place thereof respectively and the Trustees may subject to the provisions of the Act of 1913 and this Order levy demand and recover the rates and charges in the said last-mentioned schedules of this Order from the persons liable in payment of the same and all the provisions of the Act of 1913 relating to the Schedules E F G and H annexed to the Act of 1913 and to the rates and charges specified in such schedules respectively including the provisions for the security on such rates and charges for borrowed money shall be read and have effect as if the Schedules E F G and H annexed to this Order had formed part of the Act of 1913 and had been respectively the schedules designated by such letters in that Act.

Recovery
of rates
due before repeal.

7. All rates and charges which at the fifteenth day of August nineteen hundred and twenty-four may be due or payable to the Trustees under any of the schedules hereby repealed may be levied collected sued for and recovered by the Trustees in the same manner as if this Order had not been confirmed.

Power to lease
docks.

8. Notwithstanding anything contained in section 23 of the Harbours Docks and Piers Clauses Act 1847 or in any other Act of Parliament or Order relating to the Trustees or the port and harbours and in addition to their existing powers the Trustees may at any time and from time to time let on lease to any corporation company or person for such period as the Trustees think fit and for such consideration and subject to such terms and conditions as the Trustees may determine the Garvel Graving Dock and the Graving or Dry Dock No. 2 of the Trustees or either of them together with the exclusive or partial use of all or any plant machinery and appurtenances connected therewith or any part thereof and the Trustees may enter into make and execute and carry out such leases agreements or other deeds which the Trustees deem necessary for or in connection with any of the said purposes. A.D. 1922.

9. From and after the commencement of this Order section 193 (Regulations for graving docks) of the Act of 1913 and Schedule N to that Act annexed shall be and are hereby repealed and the following provisions shall apply and have effect The regulations set forth in Schedule N to this Order annexed shall be enforced respecting the graving docks for the time being belonging to the Trustees and the Trustees may enforce the same in the same manner and to the same effect as if the said regulations were byelaws made by them under the Harbours Docks and Piers Clauses Act 1847 and the Act of 1913 or either or both of them and were confirmed and allowed as therein required but the Trustees may from time to time if and as they think fit revoke amend or add to those regulations or any of them such revocation amendment or addition before coming into force to be allowed and confirmed as provided by the said Act of 1847 : Regulations for graving docks.

Provided that during the currency of any existing or future lease or leases of the graving docks hereinbefore in this section referred to or any of them the said regulations shall not unless or except in so far as the Trustees may otherwise determine apply to the subjects so let on lease.

10. All costs charges and expenses of and incident to the preparing for obtaining and confirming of this Order or otherwise in relation thereto shall be paid by the Trustees out of the revenues of the port and harbours. Costs of Order.

SCHEDULE N.

REGULATIONS FOR GRAVING DOCKS.

1. Every vessel intended for the docks shall be entered in the dock admission book and the person making the entry shall pay for each vessel twenty shillings at the time of making the entry for the vessel so entered otherwise the vessel to be considered as not entered. No vessel shall be entered unless she shall at the time be within the Cloch or have left a port in the United Kingdom for Greenock.

2. No vessel shall be entered in the said dock admission book until an application for admission to the docks is made in a form to be approved and furnished by the Trustees and lodged at the harbour-master's office which application shall be signed by the master agent or one or more of the owners of the vessel or by the ship carpenter or other person who has been employed to repair her and shall state generally the nature and extent of the work intended to be done upon the vessel while in dock and the estimated time she will require to be therein the vessel so booked shall in the general case be entitled to her turn of docking in the rotation of booking but the harbour-master shall have the entire control of sending the vessel booked to such dock as he may think expedient and the Trustees shall have power if they shall think it necessary to remove the vessel from the dock at the expense of the owners of the said vessel at the expiry of the time stated in the application or as soon as it is discovered that work of the nature specified in Regulation 3 is about to be begun or is being executed.

3. No vessel which is to be lengthened or to undergo other extensive repairs requiring the use of the dock for a longer period than three months shall be entitled to have such operations performed on her in any of the docks or to be admitted into the same or entered in the said dock admission book unless permission be granted by two-thirds at least of the Trustees present at a special meeting called for that purpose.

4. Vessels duly entered shall take their right or turn of going into the dock according to the order of the dates of their respective entries and if any vessel fail to keep her turn the next in order upon the books shall take her place if ordered by the harbour-master so to do and so on progressively and every vessel so failing whether first or progressively shall forfeit her entry money and be considered as unentered in the dock admission book. Nothing herein shall prevent a second application for entry being made either before or after such failure.

5. No exchange of turns shall be permitted unless the consent in writing of the owners consignees agents or others having charge of the vessels entered for the dock at the time be previously obtained and delivered to the harbour-master.

6. The gates of the docks shall at all times be liable to be opened for the admission or exit of any vessel or vessels provided they can be so opened without injury to the vessel or vessels already within of which the harbour-master shall be the judge in the first instance but his judgment shall be subject to be appealed or complained against in manner hereafter provided for and if at any time the gates cannot be so opened by reason of some obstacle the vessel or vessels already within and occasioning the obstacle shall as soon as possible after due intimation has been given in writing by the harbour-master be made ready temporarily or otherwise for the opening of the gates and failing compliance with such intimation shall be chargeable with double dock dues from the time that such further vessel or vessels were prevented from entering or from going out.

7. If at any time there shall not be a sufficiency of water to permit the vessel next in order upon the books to enter the dock the vessel next succeeding and capable of entering and if ordered by the harbour-master so to do shall have the right or turn but always on condition that the harbour-master shall be entitled to remove her from the dock as soon as there shall be a sufficiency of water to allow the larger vessel so disappointed to enter.

8. If when two or more vessels have been admitted into the dock there shall not remain a space sufficiently large for receiving the next in order on the dock admission book but sufficient for the accommodation of a vessel or vessels of smaller dimensions the harbour-master shall have right to pass over the intermediate vessels appearing on his books and give admission to the first entered of such smaller vessels. But it is hereby specially provided that vessels prevented docking from either of the causes stated in Regulations 7 and 8 shall not have forfeited their right of turn and they shall be entitled to be docked first in turn when there is sufficient water or length as the case may be.

9. Outward-bound vessels which have paid dues at and cleared from the port and harbours and have put back from sea damaged shall have right to the first turn of any of the docks in preference to all other vessels.

10. Lower blocks and horizontal shores shall be found by the Trustees. All other utensils and implements of whatever description must be found by the shipowner or carpenter or other parties executing repairs on the vessel.

11. The gate and sluices shall on no account or occasion be opened or shut but by order and in the presence of the harbour-master or of a qualified deputy or assistant.

12. All vessels entering the dock shall be so trimmed as to draw the least possible depth of water and shall on no pretence whatever have any of their anchors over their bows.

13. Subject to the present regulations and the right of appeal or complaint after mentioned the harbour-master shall have the sole power of placing or berthing the vessels that enter the dock and of shifting them while therein.

14. No fire at any time nor candle or other light after working hours shall on any pretence whatever be used on board of any vessel while in the dock unless under special permission in writing from the harbour-master and then only under such safeguards and conditions as he may prescribe.

15. All damage done to the blocks shores or to any appurtenance or part whatever of the dock itself shall be made good by the owner master consignee or agent of the vessel by which the damage shall have been occasioned the amount to be fixed by the harbour-master under the right of appeal mentioned in Regulation 22.

16. The dock dues leviable by the Trustees shall not exceed those specified in Schedule G to this Order annexed. British vessels shall be charged on their gross registered tonnage which shall be ascertained by the ship's certificate of registry. Foreign vessels shall be charged conformably to the gross tonnage which they shall be found to measure by application of the rules appointed by law for ascertaining the registered tonnage of British vessels.

17. The charge for pumping the dock shall be according to Schedule G to this Order annexed and there shall be a further reasonable charge for cleaning the dock and removing the rubbish occasioned by docking. A.D. 1922.

18. If any vessel after being repaired be prevented from leaving the dock by reason of insufficiency of water or by the intervention of any other vessel or vessels between her and the gate she shall not be chargeable with dock dues from and after the time of her being so detained but intervening vessels shall at all times be obliged on getting twelve hours notice to remove and make way for the outgoing vessels unless the particular stage of their repair render such removal impracticable or prejudicial of which the harbour-master shall be the judge in the first instance but his judgment shall be subject to be appealed or complained against as hereafter provided for and if the intervening vessel or vessels cannot be removed from any cause other than the insufficiency of water and the detention of the outgoing vessel be thus occasioned such intervening vessel or vessels shall during the period of such detention be chargeable with the dock dues ceasing to be exigible on the vessel so detained the said dock dues in the event of more than one vessel intervening and occasioning the detention to be apportioned according to the tonnage.

19. The dock dues together with such of the charges mentioned in the preceding articles as shall have been incurred by any vessel shall be paid or a sufficient deposit made to the collector and the receipt for the same exhibited to the harbour-master before the vessel leaves the dock and the entry money shall be allowed in part payment.

20. Notwithstanding anything in the foregoing regulations to the contrary the harbour-master is hereby declared generally and besides the special authority vested in him by these regulations to have full power to regulate and conduct all matters appertaining to the order and good government of the docks including the power of removal of vessels therefrom twenty-four hours notice of the intention to remove the vessel being given to the master or other person in charge so that he may have an opportunity of appealing against the harbour-master's order.

21. In case of any dispute or difference in opinion between the harbour-master and the owner master consignee or agent of any vessel or other person or persons employed in repairing such vessel in the dock in regard to the construction and true meaning of any part of the premises the matter in dispute shall be referred to the provost and magistrates of the burgh who or any one or more of them sitting in open court shall have and they are hereby invested with power to hear and determine the matters in dispute and their or his decision shall be final.
