SCHEDULE.

CHURCH OF SCOTLAND (GENERAL TRUSTEES).

Provisional Order to incorporate the Church of Scotland (General Trustees) to vest in the corporation the heritable properties and investments held by the different sets of trustees on behalf of the committees of the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland and for other purposes,

WHEREAS the general work of the Church of Scotland beyond the local spheres of kirk sessions presbyteries and synods is directed and controlled by the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland through standing committees appointed for the purpose :

And whereas these committees comprise among others the following :—

- The General Committee of the Church;
- The Committee on the Endowment of Chapels of Ease sometimes called the Committee for the Endowment of Chapels of Ease;
- The Committee on Small Livings sometimes called the Small Livings Committee;
- The Committee on the Aged and Infirm Ministers' Fund;
- The Committee on the Home Mission Scheme;
- The Committee on Proposed Pension Fund for Ministers;
- The Committee on Christian Life and Work;
- The Committee on Social Work;
- The Committee for the Better Endowment of Theological Chairs;

The Committee on Correspondence with other A.D. 1921.
Reformed Churches;

The Committee on Psalmody and Hymns;

The Committee on Maintenance of the Ministry:

And whereas each of the committees before named makes an annual report to the General Assembly which expresses approval or otherwise thereof and gives instructions thereon:

And whereas each of the said committees has funds under its charge which have been invested in heritable properties and investments the titles to which have been taken in the names of different sets of individual trustees for behoof of such committees respectively:

And whereas the said heritable properties and investments held by each of the said committees with the names of the trustees in whom they are at present vested are detailed in the schedule annexed to this Order:

And whereas the committee of the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland called the General Committee of the Church which is entrusted with the administration of the general business of the Church so far as not administered by any other committee in its report to the General Assembly of the Church of Scotland which met in Edinburgh on the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty drew the attention of the General Assembly to the inconvenience and unnecessary expense caused through the holding of heritable properties and investments on behalf of the several committees of the Church in names of different sets of individual trustees and stated that the transference of such heritable properties and investments to official trustees of the Church appeared to be the obvious method to adopt but such transference would require the authority of a Provisional Order:

And whereas the General Assembly having considered the report of the General Committee of the Church appointed a special committee to consider the whole question and instructed the special committee to report to the Commission of Assembly in November one thousand nine hundred and twenty:

And whereas the Act of the General Assembly appointing the Commission of Assembly contained among

“held by trustees on behalf of committees of the General
“Assembly of the Church and to approve of the draft
“of a Provisional Order to be promoted for incorporating
“such trustees and vesting in the corporate body the
“said heritable properties investments and securities”:

And whereas the said special committee having taken up the remit of the General Assembly and considered the whole question gave in a report to the Commission of Assembly which was received and considered and upon which the Commission of Assembly on the seventeenth day of November one thousand nine hundred and twenty pronounced the following deliverance:—

“The Commission of Assembly having considered
“the report of the special committee appointed
“by the General Assembly with regard to the “appointment of general trustees for the Church
“for the purpose of holding the heritable
